Prehistoric Skull Is Unearthed on Macdonald Ave.

DAILY NEWS

A Paper Of and For the People of Richmond and Contra Costa County

Excavators engaged in the work of laying the conduit for the Pacific Telephone company on Macdonald avneue late yesterday afternoon unearthed a prehistoric skull believed from its peculiar shape and size to have been a part of the remains of a member of one of the ancient aborigine tribes that roamed the wilds of North America years before the foot of white men ever trod its virgin soil.

The laborers who unearthed the strange relic are guarding it with the utmost care and are preparing to submit it to some research society from which they will likely get a considerable sum.

It is believed that the discovery may lead to the findings of other skeletons and that perhaps the entire city is built over a prehistoric burying ground, similar relics having been located previously in this vicinity.

$3,000,000 TO BE SPENT IN LOCAL WATER SUPPLY PLAN

Large and More Satisfactory Supply of Water For This City Is Plan of Mammoth Concern In Reorganization Plan.

Money Will be Spent by the Peoples Water Company to Develop Its Extensive Holdings In San Pablo Region.

With the formal submission yesterday to the State Railroad Commission of the new plan for the reorganization of the Peoples Water company of Oakland, announcement was made that should thearrangement be approved between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 would immediately be spent in developing a water supply for the east bay cities. In all, some $3,000,000 will be expended in making available a large additional amount of water either in the upper San Leandro water shed or in the San Pablo region.

The latter is the more plausible of the two when the fact that the

OIL STEAMER AT MARTINEZ

MARTINEZ, Feb. 3—The "Copper Shell," one of the new ocean going oil carriers of the Shell Oil company, is due to arrive here within the next few days. This steamer was constructed in New Jersey and is being brought here by the builders' crew. It is under American register and will receive its own crew here for future operations.

The "Copper Shell" will load a cargo of 55,000 barrels of gasoline for ports in China, and will make frequent trips here to load for foreign ports.

The Pony Is Little And The Ladies Somewhat Larger

Here is the question.

Is the Shetland pony glad.

No, it is scarcely probable that he is.

He is a very small Shetland pony. In fact his averdupois is considerably less than that if his owner.

Yesterday Mrs. W. E. Soby of 466 4th street and Mrs. Z. Bagnall, of 562 6th street, both rather pleasantly stout sallied forth in their gig, drawn by the diminutive steed. Their friends when viewing the rig from the rear were at a loss to discover what sort of motive power was used as the pony was obscured from view entirely except when the total outfit was observed from the side. Mrs. Soby and Mrs. Bagnall have been advised to seat themselves well forward in the cart lest the ponies equilibrium be upset and he find himself dangling in the atmosphere.

OAKLAND YOUTHS WERE ON WAY TO MEXICO

Officers Lang and Cox last evening picked up Alfred Stevens and Richard Parker, two youths who had ran away from home according to their own confessions and were on their way to Mexico.

The lads were on the blind baggage of Southern Pacific train No. 16. Night dest Sergeant Standiford got into immediate communication with the Oakland authorities and found that the boys lived at 1215 Sixty-second street, Oakland. They were held over night and will be taken back to Oakland today.

STOLEN ROBES IN POSESSION

The local Police are holding James Leaonard on a charge of having in his possession a lap robe from a stolen automobile. It is suspected that he is connected with the taking of the machine.

Hans Lexon is being held for vagrancy.

DANCING CLASS BY ENGLISH LODGES

The lady relatives of the Sons of St. George and the Daughters of St. George are to formulate a dancing club, it was decided at the meeting of the former lodge last evening, when a committee on arrangements, consisting of C. Millwood, H. Longbotham and A. Payne was appointed. The committee will meet with the Daughters when arrangements for the securing of dancing teacher will be made.

PLOT TO BLOW UP HERCULES IS UNEARTHED

Suspect Is Being Held At the County Jail While Sheriff Veale Is Making Investigation Of Surrounding Territory.

McCarthy Declares He Is Tramp and was Seeking Place to Sleep When He Entered Company's Yards—Feigns Insanity.

The railroad yards, the hills about Pinole and boats on the bay are being searched for evidence of what officers believe to be another plot to blow up the Hercules powder plant at Pinols. James McCarthy, captured early yesterday morning in an aleised attempt to force the door of a storeroom at the powder plant, is being held by the sheriff pending the investigation.

McCarthy declares that he is a tramp and was looking for a place to sleep when arrested. According to the guards about the place there have been several circumstances lately that lead them to believe that another explosion plot was under way. The search in the neighborhood is being made to ascertain if any accomplices are in the region awaiting the outcome of an explosion attempt, and also to discover explosives and fuses which it is believed are concealed for use in causing such an explosion.

McCarthy, it is alleged, was caught picking the lock of a storehouse in which the highest powder explosives are kept. The prisoner refused at first to tell his business or his address, but finally explained that he was a tramp, looking for a sleeping place, and that he had entered the wrong quarters.

He was captured at 3 o'clock in the morning. To enter the plant one must climp a high barbed wire fence.

Superintendent McBride of the factory and Sheriff R. R. Veale are directing the investigation.

NO MORTGAGE ON HOMESTEAD

MARTINEZ, Feb. 3—Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie set aside the mortgage given Patrick Whelan of Richmond by Abina Keller, and rendered judgement for $116.40 against the latter.

The court found that the defendant had mortgaged the property of her late father Augustine Keller, when her mother had previously homesteaded it.

REBEKAHS AT PARTY TONIGHT

After the first regular meeting of the newly installed officers of the Zephyr Rebecca Lodge, Saturday February 5th, at Fraternal hall members will be entertained by the committee in charge at a Valentine social. Games and Dancing will be features of the evening. All members are requested to attend.

Richmond Awakens Charter Is Necessity

Following the recent promulgation of an article in the Daily News, the people of Richmond have put thir shoulders to the wheel for the immediate realization of desire to fill a long felt want, namely the creation of a new set of statutes for the government of this city.

Yesterday witnessed ten petitions in circulation bearing a request that the city council call for an election for the drafting of a new charter, and last evening it was found that over two hundred names had been affixed.

That the council will take cognizance of the much greater number of signatures which will undoubtedly be secured before the next meeting is very likely, which means that the election will be held within a very short time.

There are many versions of just what reorms should be made when the new charter is outlined. Many are of the opinion that a commission form of government should be instituted. Others feel that the present plan, considerably revised could be made to work out very satisfactorily. This latter, as proposed by those who advocate it includes a reduction in the number of councilman, which would also be a part of the change made if those in favor of the commission form should prevail in number and influence.

The concensus of opinion appears to be that there are too many councilmen and that those who are appointed to these positions should be paid a sufficient salary that they might devote their entire time and efforts to the proper conduct of the city's business such as is the case in most cities of the size and prosperity of Richmond.

Another version of the situation is that when there are so many men at the head of the city governmen it is exceedingly difficult for the public to fix the blame for any mistakes which might be made, which, incidentally are all the more likely to exist when there are so many persons who might be responsible for these same errors.

REBEKAHS HELD INITIATION FOLLOWED WITH DANCING

A banquet and social time accompanied the initiation of Mrs. Cora Cecil into the Richmond lodge of Rebekahs No. 206 last evening at Woodman Hall. The evening was brought to a close with a dance.

Mesdames J. L. Miller, L. H. Cobb, J. Craig, and S. E. Ramsey had charge of the arrangements for the entertainment.

MOOSE ENJOY BANQUET AND ENTERTAINMENT LAST NIGHT

A. C. Curwin was presented with a handsome emblem pin for having been present at the greatest number of meetings held by the local order of Moose, at the banquet and entertainment held by the members of that order last evening at Moose Hall.

The presentation was made at the banquet which followed a regular business meeting.

After the banquet the floor was cleared and those present enjoyed an exhibition drill by the crack Moose drill team.

The program which followed consisted of the following numbers:

Violin solo, Master Edwin Fanning; Violin duet Master Edwin Fanning and Professor R. B. Fuchs; Zyther solo, E. Heidorn; selections by the trio composed of Al Stromberg, Piano; C. Young, Trombone; W. L. Darrell, 'Cornet; Songs by Keystone quartet, consisting of D. Smith, Roy Patterson, C. McDonald, and A. Armento; Boxing exhibition between Al Mejia and the "Masked Marvel," two round draw; Young Butch, vs. Kid Brazil, four rounds draw.

The committee in charge of the entertainment included D. J. Mulcahy, C. F. Donnelly, Joseph Gardella, A. C. Curwin and D. L. Mitchell.

The banquet was strictly a stag affair and following the eats, plenty of good smokes were passed around.

DISTRICT MANAGER VISITS YEOMEN

A dance banquet an dsocial evening was enjoyed by the local lodge of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen last evening at Pythian Castle. The lower hall was used for the banquet and the upper lodge room for the dancing party.

Elmer Woodward made application to become a member of the lodge and was accepted. He will be initiated into the rites of the order at the next regular meeting.

District Manager C. P. Klinkner of Oakland and Mrs. McGinnis, of the Oakland lodge were in attendance at the meeting last evening.

Speeches were made by members at the banquet last night.

The committee in charge of the arangements consisted of Mrs. Bert Bryant, Mrs. James C. Bly and Mrs. I. E. Bonheim.

RICHMOND CLUB AND BAND DANCE

The first of a series of dancing parties to be given by the Richmond club and the Richmond concert band will take place at the Richmond club this evening. The funds received from the door receipts will be utilized for the benefit of the two popular organizations. This fact should bring out a record breaking attendance.

The committee on arrangements consists of the following.

Mesdames C. S. Gibson, chairman of the working section of the Richmond club, C. M. McCullough, R. L. Stout, O. E. Smedley, Sam Dalze, C. F. Donnelly, A. B. Childs, Mary Lucas, Grace Thompson, L. D. Huntsberger, Ida Horner, and Miss Minnie Dohrman.

SANTA FE CO. TRAINS STILL [illegible] BIG SINK IN TRACK

Large Deposits of Rock Fail To Make the Road Safe Enough To Allow Passage of Trains—S. P. Tracks Safe.

Officials State That Several Days Elapse Before Trouble May Be Remedied—Damage Is Greatest In Years.

Santa Fe trains kept rolling by over the Southern Pacific tracks on yesterday while two hundred laborers employed by the Standard Oil and the railroad company labored feverishly near Vine Hill to repair the worst damage done to the lines of the railroad companies in this vicinity for years.

One hundred and fifty feet of Santa Fe track has sunk at least ten feet in places. The big sink is adjoining the Vine Hill school house and near Mrs. John Bacciglieri's warehouse.

The slide has caused the pipe lines of the Standard Oil to break in places and so as to keep the lines from going completely out of commission crews were put to work today to fill in crushed rock beneath the tracks.

Fifteen carloads of rock had been dumped before noon, but the track was still three feet from grades and was still slowly sinking The railroad engineers believe that the track is built on the side of a rocky hillside and that the fills will do no good. They were talking of driving piles into the spot to get the tracks to grade.

Local officials of the company stated last evening that it cannot be said when the tracks will again be safe to use. They have been out of condition for twenty four [illegible] thus far.

CALFEE DEPLORES MISCONCEPTION OF HIS DUTIES

Humane Officer D. W. Calfee returned last evening from Oakley, Contra Costa county, firmly convinced that a great many people have a misconception of the jurisdiction of his department and that the public is inclined to call on the Humane Officer to adjust petty personal quarrels and prejudices.

Reverend Calfee states that he was called to Oakley on nothing more than a "wild Goose Chase" and that the matter which he was asked to adjust was entirely out of his sphere.

"The Humane Officer has enough legitimate and urgent business to handle without being called upon to settle matters of an entirely personal nature," stated Mr. Calfee.

MRS. AMELIA LUND FILED SUIT AGAINST HUSBAND IN COURTS

NON-UNION AND UNION WORKERS

Stasitcs of the paid up membership of the American Federation of Labor, the raildoad brotherhoods and the as yet unfederated unions show more than 3,000,000 members. But this number does not express the sum total of unionism as it exists in fact. Unionism in its ebb and flow is made themore possible to a larger and larger number through union sentiment continually preceding organization itself. Beyond the forces organized and paying and are to the unions are the masses that long to be with their comrads who are bearing the burdens of labor's uplift through union method.

In the process of organization errors have been made which, for a time, have ca used serious losses to the unions. There has been on occasion poor leadership; unwise strikes have taken place. But ,whatever the cause of their falling away, it may be confidently asserted that after men have once experienced the help of the union never will they be again satisfied with the sate of non-unionism. T hey know that most of the betterments they enjoy come to them and are maintained through thepower of organized labor.

Three millions, thereore, is too small a number of trade unionism. If it were as easy for men to enroll themselves in a union as in a political party trade unionism in America would today count its four million or five or six, whatever number is necessary to cover the vastly predominating force in all the trades and callings that have been covered by our modern industrialism. It is indeed true that trade unionism envelopes in its folds more than are enrolled in the unions.

When we begin an estimate of the number of active non-union wage workers we quickly come to a halt. Professional strikebreakers are not non-unionists. They are mercenaries, on hire to whomever pays them their price. Should the unions outbid the employers they could buy the strikebreakers, whose principles have nothing to do with honest work. Their character is notorious —the jest of the employers, the worry and surprise of the innocent university leaders who once deemed non-unionists heroes. The steady and unusually fair wage-worker who at times refuses to come out on strike and give up his job may have yet in him the making of a true unionman. He may be insufficiently educated, he may perhaps feel that unncessary sacrifices are being demanded of him and his shopmates, yet time may bring him around, ready to perform the duty the good of his fellow-men requires.

No workingman of principle can rest content outside organized labor unless he has not considered the to society. What, for example, has non-unionism to offer in the place of the insurance features of unionism? The answer is mostly some form of pauperism or mortifying dependence. Butfor unionism would there exist a single state labor bureau in the country? Whence could be obtained the enormous body of facts recorded in the bureau reports if not from then? How could trade agreements be reached except through the unions? For it is a certainty non-unionism cannot promise a condition in which there would be no strikes. The ugliest of outbreaks are at times made by on-union labor. What would the prevailing workday be but for the unions? Have or have they not brought the eighthour day to many of the trades? What as to the laws for the protection of workers in mines, in factories, on the railroadsa Have non-unionists ever fought child laborp Under the heel of the tyrannical shop foreman, under the rigid rules of avaricious corporation, what would be the daily existance of the wage-workers should they accept the tenets of non-unionism?

When such questions are troubling the conscience of the wage-worker not enrolled in a labor organization he inds himself going further in self-examination. Has he a right to remain standing aside from the men who are doing what they can for their fellows? Would he notbeguilty of a form of treason to his fellow-workers and of shortsightedness respecting his own interests in taking the place of a striker? The conditions of labor being what they are, is there any truth whatever in the claim that any wage-worker has the moral and social right to work how, when and where he pleases? No more has he than has a man a right to injure himself.

Among the workers the non-unionist can offer no live argument for his beliefs, no moral principle in selfe-defense, no sentiment of brotherhood, no just reason for standing aloff frm his fellows.

AT THE RICHMOND

"The Reformer Candidate,"showin today and tomorrow at the Richmond theater stars the celebrated American actor, Maclyn Arbuckle, in another of the highly entertaining Pallas Pictures. Sensational activity is given by Charles Ruggles, for several seasons a popular matinee idol, who has heretotore been restricted to juvenile roles with his principal task the wearing of good clothes and being clever and who has yet won the reputation of being one of the best light comedians among the younger men in the business. Ruggles gives an astounding piece o fcharacter work in the unaccustomed role of the pathetic halwit, "Looney" Jim. His hanging lip, his vacant stare, his shrewd grins, and the uncanny cunning which prompts him to sign "a brokenhearted mother" to the letter with the baby he leaves on the politician's doorstep are all unerringly typical of a mind unhinged. "The Reform Candidate" will do much for the name of young Charles Ruggles.

The program will include an interesting Pathe news feature and another of the funny Lonesome Luke comedies entitled "A Peculiar Patient's Pranks."

LONDON, Feb. 3—The owners of the British steamship Clan MacTavish, sunk by the eGrman sea raider which captured the Appam, have received a report that four Lascar members of the crew are on board the Appam. It is believed some of the MacTivish's officers and men are on board the Moewe.

ANDERSON REPLIES

Editor Daily News—The Martinez Gazette in its efforts to befog the issues by discrediting the alte grand jury has not been fair or truthful. It stated in one article that theestimated cost of the Anderson grand jury was $5000. The auditor's statement shows that it was a few cents over $1428.

The Gazette was requested to publish this correction. It did not to my knowledge, do so. I was not disappointed, as I did not expect it would be so considered.

These publications of the Gazette were not in the interest of the taxpayers, justice, or good government but, in my opinion, selfish and mercinary.

During the past five years this paper has bled the county to the extent of $39,814.50 nearly $8000 per year. I have an itemized statement of the above, copy of which may be had for publication. I considered it too long for publication. It is about time this paper cease to feed out of the public crib and return the over charges which the grand jury instructed the district attorney to bring suit for recovery.

Respectfully,
E. B. ANDERSON,
Foreman 1915 Grand Jury.

GOLDEN STATE BUTTER POPULAR

C. W. Burckhalter, Assistant Sales Manager for the California Central Creameries was a visitor in Richmond yesterday. He came to give Richmond residents a little real and valuable information concerning the merits of Golden State butter, a home product giving the greatest value for the money invested, not alone in quantity but in quality, which is by far the most important of the two. Butter is the best food that man consumes and plenty of good butter comprises one of the principal essentials of a healthy diet.

Richmond's progressive merchants have come to a realization of the merits of this product and are now offering it for sale in their stores. Those handling Golden State Butter are Stiefvater, Wilkins, Vallfargo, Pulse Bros., Watkins, McWhorter and the Fair Grocery.

BURRIGHT GOES TO SAN QUENTIN

Lester Buprright, confessed member of the arson ring which operated along the entire Pacific coast, was yesterday sentenced to a five-year term in San Quentin, after Probation Officer Compton, of Oakland who has been investigating his career for the past six weeks, recommended against probation.

His wife, Mrs. Jennie Burright, who confessed having been involved in her husband's offenses, was released on five years' probation by Judge Ogden November 16 of last year.

A telegram from Galen Nichols, district attorney of Imperial county where a number of the operations occured, was received in court this morning, recommending leniency for Burright.

The "gang" to which Burright belonged made a practice of collecting insurance on furniture which they claimed was destroyed in fires which later proved to have been started by themselves. Their method was to rent a house, place in it expensive furniture upon which they placed heavy insurance, then substitute worn-out furniture for the expensive before burning the house.

Various members of the "gang" have confessed to the burning of scores of buildings, in which they realized many thousands of dollars.

Some of the buildings said to have been burned were in Richmond and Oakland.

Burright was represented by attorney H. G. Wildgrube of this city.

SOMERVILLE HAS NEW LINE

Somerville, who claims the distinction of being the original "Mill to Man" dealer in Richmond has taken the agency for the Royal Tailors of Chicago, one of the largest, oldest and best established clothing concerns in the United States. Somerville believes that he is furthering his pet policy of giving the best goods obtainable at the smallest price, upon which principal his well known and popular establishment is founded, by making arrangements to handle this company's goods.

Samples of the new spring weaves and shades are arriving together with pattern books showing the lates cuts and fashions.

"GREAT WHITE WAY" FOR CITY

It is announced that the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to start a movement for better illuminating facilities for Macdoanald avenue as soon as that body is settled down to its real mission, that of improving civic conditions. The main thoroughfare could scarcely be called "The Great White Way" under present conditions.

DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED BY HIGHWAY ENGINEER

MARTINEZ, Feb. 3—Frank Louder division engineer of the state highway commission, is in this county today looking over the storm damage done to the roads. He has found that it wil ltake some six weeks to repair the damage to the road between Martinez and Port Costa, where numerous washouts have occured.

It will be May 1 before the Tunnel road to Walnut Creek can be completely repaired. On the road from Martinez to Concord there are two washouts which are bing attended to and on the road from Martinez to Bay Point a twenty foot strip of new road has been washed out.

BEST FIGHT CARD SEEN HERE IN YEARS NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

The stage is set for the biggest fisticuff carnival that it has been the good fortune of Richmond fans to enjoy for many a day.

The scraps will be pulled off under the direction of Clarence English at the Eighth street arena on next Tuesday evening. Mr. English has not been much in the public eye in Richmond but he has nevertheless been working with frenzied though silent energy, getting things in a fine trim for the big show.

The card which has been arranged is one of the best ever put on in Richmond, and Mr. English tells us, if the support given the venture warrants it, the future cards will be even better.

Mr. Rod Murphy, Richmond's handsome Elk's baseball player is going to tell the boys when to break and when to fight. In other words he is going to referee. Have no fear Gentle fan but that the lads will conduct themselves properly under the vigilant observation of Roderick.

The main event will be between Sailor White, ex-heavy-weight champion of the United States Navy and Earl Ritchie, the present amateur heavyweight champion. Ritchie is too well known throughout the entire west to need introduction. Suffice it to say that he is just as good as he ever was and that the main event alone will be well worth the few scads from which the spectator is separated when he gains entrance through the portals of the Floyd skating rink.

Young Butch, of Richmond, vs. "Kid" Brazil, the Santa Fe Battler makes the semi-main event practically as attractive as the principal feature of the evening's entertainment. Plug Milne, a great little battler, and Joe McCarty, whose last scraps show him to be up amongst the best of them will furnish one of the principal preliminaries.

The remainder of the goes are as follows:

"Young Whittaker, of San Francisco vs. "Jake Mullen, of Oakland.

"Kid" Sylvester of West Oakland vs. "Joe" Gorman of San Francisco.

LOCAL BLACKSMITH'S UNION HELD MEETING AT PYTHIAN CASTLE

Much usiness was transacted at the meeting of the local Blacksmiths' Union last evening at Pythian Castle.

$3,000,000 IS TO BE SPENT

company has large and valuable holdings in the vicinity of Richmond and San Pablo is considered. Iti is estimated that the San Pablo water sheds can be developed until one million gallons of water will be available.

This $3,000,00 is to be expended in materials and labor which will undoubtedly be secured in Richmond Enormous pipe lines, reservoirs, dams, and buildings will be a few of the items for which the immense amount of money will be used.

Announcement of these improvements was made by John S. Drum of the reorganization committee, who was called to testify regarding the plan which will result, if approved in the formation of the new corporation to take over the ePoples Water company, which will be known as the East Bay Water company.

Great Interest Shown.

Commissioner Edwin O. Edgerton and Bond Expert Paul Sinsheimer were much concerned regarding the feasibility of the new plan as compared with the one submitted last summer, which did not meet with the approval of all of the interests affected.

The failure of several of the groups of interested parties to obtain voting power on the board of directors under theold scheme and the fact that the stockholders were not to be protected by bonds, were the chief factors in theoverthrowing of that scheme and the submission of the new plan now before the commission. By the terms of the new refinancing policy the sum of $14,000,000 fixed by the commission as the value of the property, while believed to be too low by members of the several committees, is mentioned as the price for which municipal ownership may purchase the properties at any time prior to January 1, 1917.

RICHMOND GETS BIG PORTION OF EXHIBIT

Secretary J. A. Long of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce returned last evening from San Francisco where, in company with E. B. Anderson, foreman of the county Grand Jury he went to make arrangements to secure a portion of the county exhibit at the exposition.

Mr. Long was beaming with satisfaction at the success of his visit. Not only was the Richmond portion of the exhibit secured with no cost or expense but the transportation and a large part of the county exhibit as well. Fully an entire carload of shelving, exhibits, and even a part of the beautiful facade that adorned theouter side of Contra Costa county's exhibit, were secured. The new secretary stated that all of the exhibits that could be placed in the headquarters in the Elk's building were secured.

The materials will arrive in this city within the next couple of days and perhaps one week will be required to properly place it in the headquarters. Mr. Long announces that much valuable aid was extended to him by Foreman Anderson.

Golden State Superiority
More Than a Belief

All along we knew Golden State Butter was the very highest quality possible. The selected cream of which it is made, the unusual care and skill exercised in its making, the scrupulous cleanliness observed in our creameries, the pasteurization, the packing in sealed cartons, we believe to be the foundation for our claims of superiority for

GOLDEN STATE BUTTER

But when the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco 1915, bestowed upon Golden State Butter the Grand Prize, the highest award, in a world's competition for the very qualities we knew it possessed, our belief received the backing of highest authority.
Golden State Butter is pasteurized, which insures its wholesomeness and gives it unusual keeping qualities.
